Bologna, 25 September 2017

The Internazionale Festival in Ferrara, held from 29 September to 1 October, is a major event where an ever-growing young audience can meet with journalists, experts and scholars from all over the world.

UnipolSai and Fondazione Unipolis also support this year's festival, in line with the principles that characterise Unipol's business, inspired by social and economic responsibility, attention to the individual and choices for the future and new generations.

In particular, the Unipolis Foundation shared and cooperated with Internazionale for the definition and organization of topical events: gender equality and sustainable development, Europe and new generations, fight against Mafia and corruption, culture and urban revival.
